THE CHALLENGE

Standing Out in a Competitive Wellness Market

Integrity Naturopathic, led by Dr. Jamie Brinkley in Sacramento, California, needed a reliable digital channel to attract new patients for naturopathic medicine, functional medicine, holistic health, and sports medicine services. The practice had previously run Google Ads with mixed results — broad wellness terms generated traffic but low conversions, while the account lacked the structure to scale efficiently on a modest budget.

THE STRATEGY

Service-Intent Keywords with Precision Targeting

We restructured the Google Ads account around high-intent, service-focused keywords — targeting patients actively searching for naturopathic doctors, holistic practitioners, and functional medicine in the Sacramento area. Location-specific terms consistently outperformed broad wellness searches.

As the account matured, we expanded into a dedicated sports medicine campaign and tested Performance Max alongside standard Search. Budget was carefully managed at $2,350/month to maximize every dollar, with continuous negative keyword refinement to eliminate waste.
